Cupid, Love & Friendship in Italy

Station 1 MINI STORY – “Cupid’s Italian Pizza”

Joel (Explain the mythology section; make up your own dialogue.)

Alison “Long ago, Cupid was the Roman god of love. He had wings, a bow and magical arrows. When Cupid shot an arrow, people could fall in love.

But one day, Cupid traveled to Italy and discovered something amazing: pizza! He decided to create a special pizza—not for eating, but for friendship!

Each ingredient represented something important: kindness, respect, happiness, teamwork and friendship.”

The Story of Valentine’s Day in Italy

Valentine’s Day is celebrated in Italy on February 14th. It is called San Valentino.

Saint Valentine was a Christian bishop who lived in Italy many centuries ago. According to legend, he helped young couples and became a symbol of love.

Saint Valentine became known as the patron saint of lovers. Today, Italian people celebrate San Valentino by giving flowers, chocolates, cards and special gifts to people they love. But love is not only about couples. We can also celebrate friendship, kindness and respect.

Happy Valentine’s Day! Buon San Valentino!
